WPB—87337 Riders on the Storm

The Coast Guard Cutter Sockeye was built in September 2001 in Lockport, LA to replace the aging 82-foot Pt. Chico. The Marine Protector Class feature a stern launched Rigid Hull Inflatable Boat used to assist in the cutter's various missions. The RHIB is a 17' Zodiac Hurricane with a Hamilton jet drive. The stern launch system allows for quick launch and recovery of the RHIB, as well as improved crew safety. Collocated with Station Bodega Bay in Bodega Bay, Calif. the Sockeye's area of responsibility stretches from Mendocino County to the north, to Pt. Sur to the south, out to 200 nautical miles offshore. This expansive area includes the busy San Francisco Bay and Port of Oakland.
